Reports and suggestions from the survey will be sent to Washington and from these suggestions will come a new correlated farm program designed to offer the best possible service to the farmers.

These meetings will be on topics vital to farming in this county. They will deal with all phases of farming from conservation practices to farm loans and support prices.

These meetings are sponsored by the Milam County Agricultural Mobilization Committee. The Public is invited to attend.

The family committee, composed of department officials and representatives of farm and church organizations and land grant colleges, has conducted a review of the policies and programs of each agency in the department with respect to their service to the family farms over the United States.

The committee pointed out that some improvements in the department's services to family farmers would require amendments to existing legislation.

At of this preliminary work is only start in the right direction. What the department wants and needs are the recommendations of farmers themselves and others interested in agriculture for improvement of farm programs.

To justify continued national support and encouragement, family farming must maintain a standard of adequacy and efficiency.

Improve Soil Conditions Is Essential In Production of Defense Needs

Farmers of Milam county who are stepping up production to meet defense needs are reminded by Paul C. Graves, chairman of the county PMA committee, that one of the first steps is to improve soil condition. As he explains it, soil improvement is the key that opens the door to increased production through the use of improved seed, more efficient machinery, more effective pesticides and all the other developments for increasing production.

Good fertile soil with adequate moisture throughout the growing season are essential to good yields. And, the chairman explains, it is the function of the Agricultural Conservation Program to help farmers improve their soil and keep it in good condition.

To illustrate, he points out that conservation practices which slow down water runoff, also help put moisture into the soil for the use of growing crops.

The green manure cover crops which protect the land against erosion while they are growing add to the fertility and improve the condition of the soil when they are plowed under. The lime and phosphate and potash used to improve the stands and increase the growth of grass and legume crops also serve to increase the productivity of the soil for other crops.

Hybrid seed, 2-4D, and improved tillage tools are important developments but without a good soil their effectiveness would be greatly reduced. Information on soil improving Agricultural Conservation Program practices is available at the county

Production and Marketing Administration office at Cameron.

The Production and Marketing Administration announces that the loan base rate for 1951, middling 15-16 white and very white cotton has been set at 31.54 for Milam County.

on farm-stored cotton (secured by Chattel Mortgages) stored in structures approved by Production and Marketing Administration county committees. Cotton producers' notes will bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum and will mature July 31, 1952 but will be callable on demand. Loans will be available through April 30, 1952.

July Water Revenue Report Good; More Than $1000 Over June Report

Gross water revenue for the city of Cameron for the month of July amounted to $5,888.21, according to L. W. Smith, superintendent at the Water Department.

This figure is a considerable increase over last month's report. The June gross income report was $4,844.56, Smith said. The city had realized slightly over $1,000.00 more income from the July report over the June statistics.

Cameron during the month of July used 7,300,000 gallons of water in this year than in July 1950, according to Smith. There has been a considerable number of connections on the water mains during the past year.

The expenses for the month of July totaled $1,605.58, leaving a net income of $4,282.63.

The Cameron Municipal swimming pool during the summer months has made a net profit of $315.55. There has been quite a bit of expense this season at the pool. The filtering system has been over-hauled and other repairs have been made. The pool is in very good condition and expense on it should be considerably less in the next few years.

Special Meeting Is Called By Brazos River Board

According to a letter received by Oxsheer Smith, a special meeting of the Board of Directors of Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District has been called for August 13.

The main purpose of this special meeting is for the arrangement of financing for three dams to be built by the board.

The Board has a contract with the Texas Power and Light Company to take all the current from the three dams to be constructed in Palo Pinto and Hood Counties at a price that will pay the construction of the dams in 30 years. When the dams are paid for, the entire revenue will go to the General Fund of the State of Texas.

The construction of these three dams has been contracted for and the financing arranged by the issuance of bonds by the Brazos Board, supported by the contract with the Texas Power & Light Company and will be retired by the earnings of the power generated by the three dams. The Federal and State Government's will contribute nothing whatever in a financial way. It is quite an achievement by a State Board, created by the Legislature and consisting of high class business men, who receive no salary whatever, but have the satisfaction of bringing about great things for their State. This is a first class example of pure business by a State Board Agency already operating at a profit to the State, and both our State and Federal Governments could use more of it.

Alcoa Plant For Milam County Okehed By Department Of Interior

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—The Interior Department approved today plans for a new aluminum plant in Milam County, using lignite for fuel.

Acting Interior Secretary Richard D. Searles said he had recommended to the Defense Production Administration that certificates of necessity for the plant be issued.

The plant, proposed by the Aluminum Co. of America, would have a production capacity of 85,000 short tons of aluminum a year.

Searles said that the power for the new facilities will be generated by Alcoa, using lignite from deposits near Sandow as a source of fuel.

"The use of Texas lignite for the generation of power opens up a new important resource in the manufacturing of aluminum," Searles said.

"The company had an interim power contract with Texas Power and Light Co. which will take care of their power needs until their own steam turbine generating plan using lignite as

Officers Convene To Discuss Plans; Congress Asked To Adopt Program

Plans were inaugurated for the Annual Farm Bureau Membership Drive Wednesday, August, according to Mrs. Jessie Mae Wimberly, secretary.

Officers of the bureau met to discuss all preliminary formalities to begin on the program. The drive is scheduled to get underway the first part of October, Mrs. Wimberly said.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has asked congress repeatedly to adopt a realistic program to control inflation and not be led into believing that price and wage control in any way contribute to a solution of the problems of inflation, according to Gordon Allen, editor of the American Farm Bureau Federation's Official News Letter.

The AFBF has presented a seven point program to combat inflation. Farm Bureau's battle in behalf of the program will go on unabated.

The seven point program is as follows: 1, Increasing of Production needs; 2, Eliminating all non-essential federal expenditures; 3, Continuing to emphasize measures to restrain credit other than that used to increase production; 4, Encouragement of increased private savings; 5, Continuing to stress the sale of government bonds to individuals and non-bank investors and taking steps to prevent a further shift of non bank-head negotiable bonds to the banking system; 6, Managing the public debt so as to make a maximum contribution to price and economic stability; 7, Paying the bill by higher taxes. To pay by taxes helps avoid inflation.

William Falkner, chairman of the membership committee and vice-president of the Milam County Bureau said that all farm bureau president of all southern states are holding conference at New Orleans to try to increase the price of cotton. He predicted a short cotton crop and many farmers could be hurt financially if the price is not increased.

Falkner said never in the history of agriculture has there been a time when a greater need existed where farmers and ranchers should highly organize to protect interest and business, than today.

Sergeants With 6 years Service May Apply for Warrant Officers

Sergeants first class who have a total of six years active service and three months in grade are now authorized by the Department of the Army to apply for ppointment as Warrant Officer Junior Grade, Colonel C. M. Culp, Chief of the Texas Military District, said here today.

Heretofore only master sergeants and sergeants first class who served as warrant officers in World War II could apply for such appointments. The requirements were lowered because enough master sergeants too meet the Army's needs were not applying for the appointments.

Fourth Army Headquarters at San Antonio recognized that since most master sergeants would suffer a loss of pay by changing to warrant officers they would be reluctant to apply. Consequently, a recommendation was submitted to the Department of the Army that the requirements be lowered.

The current appointments program which was announced by Fourth Army Headquarters last week has been amended to include sergeants first class. As a result, Army officials now believe that little difficulty will be experienced in filling the warrant officers vacancies in Fourth Army area.

SFC Frank Zavrel, Korean Hero On Way Home; Awarded Bronze Star

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Zavrel of Cameron have received a letter from their son, SFC Frank A. Zavrel that he is on his way home for a furlough. He left Korea July 26 and was in Alaska when he wrote his parents that he was headed for home.

SFC. Zavrel sent a clipping in the letter to his parents telling of his heroic action against an armed enemy near Koto-ri, Korea November 29, 1950 while a member of Company B, 31st Infantry.

In part it read: "On this date, Sergeant Zavrel was accompanying his company moving in motor convoy to join friendly troops near the Chosin Reservoir. At dark a large, fanatical enemy force attacked the convoy, resulting in chaos and confusion among the personnel. Sergeant Zavrel moved about, exposed to enemy weapon fire and grenades, reorganizing his squad to provide protection for the convoy. Discovering a group of the enemy, he personally attacked and dispersed them with hand grenades, inflicting a large number of casualties. With utter disregard for his personal safety, he occupied and held a forward position

Federal Law Prohibiting Child Labor Under 16 Applies In All States

With most public schools opening next month, officials of the U. S. Department of Labor already are turning their attention to the labor and employment of young citizens, they want boys and girls to continue their education because prominent figures everywhere contend that good schooling makes a happier adult, a better wage earner, a finer citizen, and, if necessary, a more efficient soldier.

T. J. Rauch, supervisor of the wage-hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor here, points out that Federal laws prohibiting child labor now apply in all states to all children under 16 years of age employed on farms producing crops for interstate commerce (other than their parent's farm) when school is in session.

Local resident children as well as migratory alien children are covered by the law, he said. Neither may be employed in agriculture during school hours if they are under 16.

Mrs. Dave Spidilla of near Temple visited in Cameron over the weekend.

throughout the night, driving off several enemy attacks on that position. The heroism of Sergeant Zavrel on this occasion reflects great credit on himself and the military service."

He was awarded the bronze star medal for heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the armed enemy.

They Like it a Million!

Last week Buick set a proud record.

The millionth Dynaflo Drive* was delivered to a happy owner.

That's a new peak in popularity for modern drives which take you from a standing start to any cruising speed desired with a smooth, unfaltering swoop of power.

"The biggest advance since the self-starter" is what the motorwise press called this Buick development back in 1948—and now a million owners can tell you how right that proved to be.

Here, they found, was a basically different way of delivering power.

It was the first drive to get completely away from any gears which function in a series of fixed stages—the first to apply supercharging principles that did new tricks with spinning oil.

And how folks loved it!

They loved the freedom from strain in traffic. And the new "sweetness" of ride which every passenger could enjoy.

They loved the command it gives them of every traffic situation—and the relaxation it contributes to a long day's drive.

They loved its extra safety in slippery going, and the improved control in mud and snow.

As they piled up experience, they loved the unexpected savings of rear tire wear and the reduced strain on all driving parts, from engine to differential.

And finally—they loved what it does for the value of a Buick, as reflected in the extra dollars that Dynaflo* adds to the resale price of a car.

Have you sampled this driving sensation?

There's no time like the present for discovering the thrills that more than a million Buick owners already know.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buicks.

1952 Annual Soil Conservation Award Announced This Week By Dallas Banker

Every Texas citizen is interested in the splendid, constructive work being done throughout the State in the interest of soil conservation. This work is being done not only by the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture and its 58 District Conservationists, but by 825 Soil Conservation District Supervisors, who are assisting in carrying out this program throughout the State. These District Supervisors, who give their services gratis, are now to get recognition for their splendid work. The Texas Bank & Trust Company of Dallas has announced that an annual award, beginning in 1952, is to be presented to the outstanding Soil Conservation District Supervisor in Texas. This award is to be an all-expense trip for the Supervisor and his wife to some area within the United States or its possessions to study soil and water conservation methods.

The winner will be selected through a banker-farmer-rancher tieup in each district. Each of the 165 districts in Texas has five supervisors, all farmers and ranchers. The districts are grouped into five zones. Each zone has a vice president and four directors, all of whom also are farmers and ranchmen. A soil conservation award committee will be set up in each zone. Committee members will include the zonal vice president and one director, plus three bankers. Banks will be asked to nominate the outstanding supervisor in their districts. These nominations will go to the zone committees which will screen the nominations and send one name from each zone to a State Conservation Award Committee. This Committee then will select the winner.

The State Soil Conservation Award Committee will include Claude Jones, Gainesville banker; Paul Walser of Temple, State Soil Conservationist; Clayton Puckett of Ft. Sockton, head of the Texas Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors; Walter Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press; C. M. Caraway of DeLeon, Chairman of the State Soil Conservation Board, and P. B. (Jack) Garrett, President of the Texas Bank & Trust Company of Dallas.

This program is designed to create a better understanding and closer relationship between the banker, farmer and ranches, as crop growing and livestock-raising are still the basis of home Texas economy, despite the outpour of oil and industrial products. It vitally affects our own area. All farmers and ranchers are encouraged to help their supervisors, for the winning of the Award will bring recognition not only to the supervisor, but of the district and zone he represents.

Group Returns From Enjoyable Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Vito Riola of Cameron joined Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Truesdal of Temple for a wonder vacation trip to Colorado and New Mexico.

The two couple first stop was at Raon Pass, New Mexico, where they saw Raton Pass, at an elevation of 7,834 feet. The climate was very cool. They also went through Carlsbad Cavern, New Mexico. From here they went to Canyon City where they viewed the Royal Gorge. They stayed at Colorado Springs several days, and saw the "Cave of the Winds" and "The Garden of the Gods." Pikes Peak was very interesting, the group reported. They toured the city of Denver and visited the many famous resorts there.

The scenery was very beautiful with the snow banked mountains.

Persons In Centex Area Who Have Lost Benefits Urged To File Claims

There are still a sizeable group of persons in the Centex area served by the Austin social security office who have already lost five months benefits, and will lose more if they do not file claim promptly, according to James B. Marley, manager of the office. This group consists of persons who were made eligible by Social Security Act amendments last August.

The law allows up to six months retroactive payments, thus those who became eligible in September 1950, and have not filed, have already lost their insurance payments for September, October, November, December, and January. If they wait until September to file, they will lose the February payment also. A claim must be filed before payments can be made.

The largest group made eligible under the new law consists of wage earners 65 or older who have at least six quarters of work credited under social security. Their wives and children under 18 also may qualify for benefits.

Social security offices have contacted most persons eligible under the new social security law. However, Marley explained that everyone who might become entitled to benefits under the amended law call at or write the Social Security Administration office in Austin at once.

Lt. Larry Moore Jr. Completes 33 Combat Missions Over Korea

First Lieutenant Larry Moore Jr., husband of Mrs. JoAnne Moore, Killen, Texas, recently completed his 33rd combat mission over Korea as a B-26 Navigator. Lieutenant Moore is assigned to the 3rd Bomb Wing, a Fifth Air Force B-26 wing flying night missions against the Communists.

On one of his recent missions, Moore and his crew members were credited with destroying a locomotive and several boxcars of a Communist supply train. "We found the train in a marshalling yard near Sariwon, Moore explained. "We made a hurried reconnaissance to look over the situation, and then made a series of bombing and strafing passes. When we finished there was steam spurting in all directions from the locomotive."

A former student of William and Mary College, Lieutenant Moore first entered the Air Force in 1942 as an aerial gunner. Following his discharge at the end of World War II he entered Officers Candidate School, receiving his commission in December 1948. In January of this year, following completion of Aviation Cadets, he was awarded his navigator's wings.

Lieutenant Moore was assigned to the Far East Forces in March of this year. In four months of aerial combat with the 3rd Bomb Wing he has flown 33 night missions over Korea.

For action over Korea Lieutenant Moore has been awarded the Air Medal with one Oak leaf Cluster and the Korean Service Medal.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tindall were Mr. and Mrs. Al Dent and two children of Harlingen, and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Elliott and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tindall, and Mrs. A. B. McFarland of Cameron.

Mrs. Louise Rattling of Temple was a business visitor in the city recently.

Farmers and Ranchers Warned to Begin Killing Skunks To Prevent Outbreak of Rabies

Texas farmers and ranchers in the Red River Valley region and in Southwest and Central Texas have been warned to begin killing skunks—lots of them—before cold weather brings an increase in rabies cases.

The grim warning is contained in an animal morbidity report compiled by the State Department of Health. The idea is to pin-point rabies infested areas as warning to people in adjacent areas.

State Health Officer George W. Cox said Texas has areas 'bigger than most rabies.

"From now on we're going to call our shots by county of occurrence. It isn't going to be 'Texas rabies' any more," the health official declared.

"Livestock owners should have active skunk killing programs especially in the Red River Valley area, when winter approaches and skunks hole up with livestock in dilapidated barns," the report cautioned.

Current focal points of skunk rabies are, the report indicated, in Harris, Matagorda, Fort Bend, and Lavaca Counties. Another focus exists in the region of Comal and Hays Counties, and in Central Texas in Travis, Bell, Coryell, Lampasas, and McLennan Counties.

"The trend is eastward in Central Texas," the report said.

Titus and Hopkins, an area hit hard

The Cameron Herald
AUGUST 16, 1951

last year, continues to have a serious problem, causing health officials to caution livestock men in the east part of the Red River Valley to be especially vigilant against skunk invasions of barns and outhouses.

The rabies morbidity report is something new in disease control. Modeled after the method used to keep tabs on cases of human communicable diseases, it is part of the general protection the state health agency in providing.

For July the report shows: 77 dogs, 6 foxes, 6 cats, 4 skunks, 4 calves, 3 pigs 2 civit cats and 1 cow were diagnosed as rabid at the state Bureau of Laboratories.

Two Local Guardsmen To Attend School Fort Knox, Kentucky

Two more enlisted men of Battery C, 649th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion will attend one of the Army's Service Schools, Capt. Rudolph Michalka reported Wednesday.

He said they are Sgt. James D. Leath and Cpl. Richard H. Kamenicky. Both will take the Track Vehicle Maintenance Course at the Armored School, Fort Knox, Kentucky. They left Cameron by train early Wednesday morning and will report at Ft. Knox on August 10th.

Leath and Kamenicky received Pullman accommodations for the entire trip and will receive quarters, rations and full Army pay during their approximately three months attendance at the school.

Another enlisted man of Battery C, Cpl. Johnny J. Balcar, returned early this week from another Army Service School at Ft. Bliss, Texas, where he has just completed the Anti-aircraft Artillery Weapons Maintenance Course.

Balcar, who is assigned to one of Battery C's gun crews, reported that he learned a great deal about AAA weapons from the course. In addition to the instruction in maintenance he received, he also witnessed a demonstration on the artillery range of a number of anti-aircraft weapons. They included twin 40 mm guns mounted on a M-19 gun carriage, 90 mm and 120 mm guns, and there was even a brief glimpse of the Army's fabulous new anti-aircraft gun, the Sky-scraper.

The Army maintains some 200 service schools at various posts over the nation, and many of them are open to members of the National Guard. Their purpose is to train officers and men as Army specialists, but in many cases men attending these schools receive training which is valuable to them in their civilian jobs as well.

Chamber And Bureau Appeal For Funds To Complete Construction of Shed

The Chamber of Commerce recently mailed letters to merchants and businessmen over the city requesting additional funds for the erection of a labor shed, according to L. G. Smith, manager.

The Chamber and the Milam County Farm Bureau have been collaborating on the project for several weeks in the anticipation of having it completed by the cotton harvest season.

All expenses will be divided equally between the Chamber and the Bureau, except the cost of the water pump that was purchased by the City.

The Chamber needs $400.00 more for the installation of sewer facilities and shower connections in order to maintain sanitary conditions. This additional expense will also include lighting fixtures and maintenance.

This appeal is for an urgent need, since harvesting of the cotton crop will bring more trade to the immediate area, therefore merchants and businessmen will profit considerably in seeing that the labor shed is completed at the earliest possible date. This project is vital to this area since the majority of the county's income is derived from farming.

National Foundation Epidemic Team, Equipment Sent To Fort Worth

Two epidemiologists were dispatched to Fort Worth at the request of Austin health officials last week to study the polio outbreak in Tarrant County. The national Foundation for Infantile Paralysis flew in its assistant director of research, Dr. Henry Kumm of New York, and Dr. Herbert Wenner, professor of pediatrics, University of Kansas.

Meanwhile valley counties continued to receive large epidemic aid grants from the March of Dimes organization which sent $42,100 to Texas for local patient care expenses during the week ending August 4th.

Receiving funds, largely for previous year's patients, were Hidalgo County, $19,000; Cameron, $7,900; Kennedy and Kleberg $8,500; and Jim Wells $2,000. Gillespie and Medina, in south-central Texas, received $1,600 and $3,100 respectively. The total sent during the year to Texas county chapters after their own March of Dimes funds were depleted, reached $283,775.

By August 3rd, rural Sagerton (a community of several hundred near Abilene) had chalked up its seventh case for the year.

On the equipment front, too, National Foundation resources were tapped with three respirators going to Texas hospitals during the week. Ben Tankersley, NFIP northwest Texas representative wired for suction machines and hot packs for the Plainview Clinic where 21 patients were being treated, three in iron lungs.

With Red Cross cooperation, the National Foundation rounded out its service to Texas patients by recruiting six polio nurses, fulfilling its pledge of assistance to polio victims in fighting the epidemic disease.
